Study at VHL: International Agriculture and Trade in Deventer

Graduated: 2000

Current job: “Managing director of M&M, a small Chilean consultancy focused on international business and investment, economic development and management training. I obtained a Masters degree in Business-Society Management at the Rotterdam School of Business - Erasmus University, a Masters degree in International Management from the Community of European Management Schools (CEMS), and a Bachelor degree in Agriculture and International Trade from the Larenstein University (NL) graduating on trade in organic fruits. Since four years I have been living and working in Chile, working on projects related to sustainable tourism development, small and medium enterprise development and entrepreneurship. Before coming to Chile I worked for my family’s business as a marketing manager in the Netherlands.”
